Executive Summary

Your executive summary should resemble an elevator pitch: your motivation is to quickly persuade a decision maker to get involved in your project.

- What is the purpose of your project; what problem(s) does it address?
 - Why is your project important; why is it relevant?
 - Who could your project help; who is your audience or customer?
- Local small-town newspaper and readers.
 - To record and show clips of events happening.
 - Show readers the more accurate depicting of what really happened
- Small town communities don't get a lot of positive coverage. The client wants to add videos that can't be available to normal community readers. By doing so, it will draw new viewership to the news company and have positive coverage/outlook to a small town in Mahanomen country. The clients will find more ads that will help produce a positive outlook for the community and produce more revenue for the future.
